CHAPTER I

DESCENDANTS OF CORNELIS AERTSEN VAN SCHAICK IN AMERICA

INTRODUCTION

a. PREFACE

Since the publication of Volumes I and II, "Descendants of Cornelis Aertsen Van Schaick" in 1982 and 1986, the Compiler has received many letters expressing gratitude for making public the information and data about themselves and their relatives. In many instances my fellow descendants sent me unpublished data about their relatives and in some cases referred me to relatives who possessed more information. Many correspondents expressed the hope that the information they furnished would be published in a Supplement or another Volume.

The magnitude of these suggestions and requests accumulated to such an extent that in late 1989 I began to think of the possibility and feasibility of another volume. I was reluctant to look favorably upon publishing another book because of my advanced age and declining eyesight. After considerable soul searching, I made the decision to go for a third volume. That intention was communicated to the members of the Descendants of Cornelis Aertsen Van Schaick Association, Inc. by a notice in the 4th quarter issue of the KINFOLKS QUARTERLY (December 1989). Possibly, the Christmas spirit was somewhat responsible for the decision. In any event, I am pleased to present to my fellow descendants Volume III. May it bring to you as much pleasure as it has brought to me.

b. SCOPE OF THIS VOLUME

The genealogical information included in Volume III is intended to supplement the data and information contained in Volumes I and II. It also serves as a means of correcting any erroneous information discovered to exist in Volumes I and II. A major contribution of genealogical data results from the updating of information about families included in Volumes I and II. Much additional data reflects births, marriages and deaths of descendants and other persons since the publication of Volumes I and II. To illustrate, the growth in descendants and related individuals in my family group which numbered 44 individuals in 1982, a total of fifteen (15) births, deaths, marriages or other major changes in this group occurred in the period 1982-1992. Demographic change is the name of the game.

c. DEDICATION OF VOLUME III

I am indebted to many wonderful people who have so generously given of their time, effort and energy in collecting and furnishing data and information for publication in Volume III. Volume I was dedicated to my father, Charles Warren Van Scoyoc, who started the collection of family data. Volume II was dedicated to my wife, Marjorie, whose help in the preparation of Volumes I and II for publication was invaluable. Because of the assistance of many cousins who furnished the great bulk of the genealogical data and other information which is in the three volumes, I dedicate Volume III to these loyal and dedicated contributors.

d. ACKNOWLEDGMENTS TO CONTRIBUTORS OF DATA

Reference has been previously made to the great amount of data and information that was given to me for use in the publication of Volume III. The outpouring of genealogical and other data was heart warming, to say the least. Without this assistance there would have been no Volume III. I am very grateful for the help I received and am pleased to record in this book the names of those wonderful persons.

Manetta and Joe Henning, Columbus, Wisconsin
40th Wedding Anniversary, September 17, 1988
Manetta and Joe furnished a large amount of genealogical material for the three Volumes, based upon their research activity, although they are not descendants. However, their daughter married a descendant. The Compiler is most grateful for their hard work and persistent efforts to provide information for this book and Volumes 1 and 2.

e. ACCURACY

Errors will undoubtedly be found in this Volume as they were discovered in Volumes I and II. Errors seem to occur despite intense efforts to avoid them through checking, rechecking and proofreading.

The Compiler highly regrets the inclusion of errors in this book and sincerely apologizes for any errors discovered. He also desires that any errors be reported to him at his address 707 So. Gulfstream Avenue, Sarasota, Florida 34236, whether such discovered errors were in data furnished to the Compiler or occurred in the script copy prepared by the Compiler.

The Compiler also regrets that in many instances the reported genealogy of a descendant or other person lacks the dates of births, marriages and deaths or the names of the places where the events occurred. However, the Compiler was unable to obtain this data from the contributors or a published source such as the census. While the quality of census material has improved over the years, data for the years prior to 1900 lacks the desired completeness.

f. ARRANGEMENT OF BOOK AND NUMBERING SYSTEM

Family Groupings and Code Numbers

The arrangement of genealogical data in Volume III is basically the same as that followed in Volumes I and II although some minor differences exist. Data is recorded for male and female individuals based on the commonalty of surnames and the order of births within the family. For example, I suggest you turn to page 46 which sets forth the genealogy pertaining to IDEN (EDEN) VAN SCHAICK.

Code Numbers

Each descendant is assigned a Code Number consisting of a Roman numeral prefix which indicates the generation as related to the generation for Cornelis Aertsen of (I) followed by one or more Arabic or common numbers determined by the order of birth of the children in the family. For example, Arie, the first son of Cornelis Aertsen Van Schaick is assigned the numeral (2) since he is the second child of Cornelis Aertsen. Thus, the code number of Arie is II-1-2. The first child of Arie is BELITJE and her code number of III-1-2-1.

If reference is made again to page 46 it will be noted that Iden is the father of nine (9) children, five (5) by his first wife Isabel, and four (4) by his second wife, Mary. The children are numbered consecutively by the order of their birth, thus the code number for Stephen, number six (6) is III-1-2-2-6. In the numbering process males and females are treated alike. Wives bear the same code number as their husbands. For example, the code number of wife Isabel is III-1-2-2, the same as Iden. The code number of wife Mary is the same except for the addition of the prefix two (2) before her name.

The next step is developing code numbers for succeeding generations of children. They are numbered in the same manner as their parents. For example, the children of Cornelius Van Scoy (Code No. III-1-2-2-2) will all bear that number plus the addition of their particular number. To illustrate, Cornelius Van Scoy, Jr. will bear the number IV-1-2-2-2-7.

When triplets are born they each bear the same code number using the letter "a", "b" and "c" added to distinguish one from the other.

Establishing your relationship to Cornelis Aertsen and other ancestors.

With knowledge of your Code number, it is relatively easy to trace your relationship to your ancestor and to Cornelis Aertsen. To expedite your search, follow the instructions of the well known telephone company commercial 'Let your fingers do the walking.'

Assume your Code number is XI-1-2-2-5-1-4-2-8-6-3-4 and you are recorded at Page 638. Since you are the 4th child of your father, his recordation will likely appear on the first, second or third previous pages. His Code number will begin with X and end with (3). The Code number of your grandfather will begin with IX and end with (6). The intervening digits are identical with yours. To continue this process, slowly turn back the pages keeping your eyes on the Code numbers. You will be looking first for a Code number with the Roman numeral VIII and ending with number (8). At that point you will have located your great grandfather. This process can be repeated until you arrive at Cornelis Aertsen, Code Number I-1.

If you are interested in an individual in Volume III where reference is made to a page number in Volume I it is suggested that you turn to that page in Volume I inasmuch as it may include data concerning such individual which is not duplicated in Volume III. However, in some cases the reference to a page in Volumes I and II is for the purpose of recording that an error or omission exists in Volume I or II as to a Code number, or a date, name or place.

End of Line or Branch

The end of each line or branch is signaled by the symbol below

Line ending may be caused by (a) the descendant may be the last in his or her line, (b) and the unavailability of data pertaining to the individual or subsequent generations.

It may be noted that a child listed in the family group may not again appear in the book. This absence may be caused by the death of the child before reaching maturity. This is indicated by the initials D.Y. after his or her name. Another reason for the omission is that no information other than the date of birth is available.

Indexes

This volume contains several indexes. Each varient Dutch surname spelling has a separate index for males and females. There is an index for the wives of direct male descendants. Also indexes are included for the husbands of female descendants and their children who bear surnames other than one of the varient Dutch spellings.

h. THE FAMILY SURNAMES

Many different spellings of the surname Van Schaick surfaced during the course of preparing Volume I. One hundred and thirty two spellings are listed in Volume I. However, it appears that many of these spellings reflect spelling errors in documents rather than true varient spellings. Adequate genealogical data to develop provable connections with Cornelis Aertsen Van Schaick were available for fifteen of the surname spellings. Two additional surnames have been added to the fifteen.

Volume I contains a substantial amount of information concerning the original spelling of the name, the changes in spelling that have occurred and it will not be repeated. However, two explanations of name changes have subsequently come to light and are believed to be worth mentioning.

William Vanskike in writing to a cousin in April of 1871 stated the following:

'now in regard to my name we changed it years ago the old original Dutch name was VanSchoick we thought it was so long that we would change it. learned men say that Vanskike is more correct than Van Schoick that is the only reason that we changed it all of us here in Mo spell it Vanskike.' (spelling and punctuation from the original)

Another reason for a name change is found in a letter to the Compiler from Roy Van Scoyoc. He wrote 'The reason our name was changed from Van Scyoc to Van Scoyoc was because my mother was persuaded by a school teacher that there couldn't be two different spellings of the same name. And because all the other Van Scoyocs in the area spelled their name differently than ours, my mother thought it must be wrong, so she had our name changed.'

One additional surname, Van Schoik, has been added.

i. PATRIOTIC, HEREDITARY AND OTHER ORGANIZATIONS

Descendants of Cornelis Aertsen are eligible for membership in a number of Patriotic and Hereditary organizations. A good number of ancestors living in New York, Pennsylvania, Virginia and New Jersey served in the Revolution under General George Washington, or in the State Militias. Their service has been recorded in Volumes I and II and in this Volume where data concerning such service is available. The names of the two principal patriotic organizations are: Sons of the American Revolution and Daughters of the American Revolution. Military service in other wars and conflicts is also recorded where available.

A number of organizations venerate the early settlers of America nationally and of geographical areas. Among such organizations are The Order of the Founders and Patriots of America, The Society of Indiana Pioneers, The First Families of Ohio and the Sons and Daughters of Oregon Pioneers. Many of the descendants of Cornelis Aertsen are eligible for membership in one or more of these organizations.

Another group of organizations relate to the Colonial period of America, generally the period before 1776. Some of these organizations are the Colonial Dames of America, The National Society of the Colonial Dames of the XVII Century and the National Society of the Daughters of the American Colonists.

The organization which is particularly appropriate for the direct male descendants of Cornelis Aertsen Van Schaick is The Holland Society of New York. Membership is restricted to males who are direct descendants of a resident of New Netherland prior to 1676. The headquarters are in New York City at 122 East 58th St., 10028. The Compiler is a member and hopes that other descendants will join him. The Society has 25 Branches in the United States and approximately 1000 members. The Society was organized in 1885.

Copies of original records are required as proof of your descent from an ancestor. Volumes I, II and III should be helpful in showing your line of descent and where the ancestors resided so that copies of documents may be obtained.

CHAPTER II

OUR ANCESTORS IN THE NETHERLANDS

Foreword

The ancestry of Cornelis Van Schaick has been on the mind of the Compiler ever since he learned about the Van Schaick's of Manhattan Island, New York. His father, Charles Warren Van Scoyoc, began the search for his ancestors before the beginning of World War II. In 1917 he discovered through correspondence with George S. Van Schaick, the Insurance Commissioner of the State of New York, the origin of the Cornelis Van Schaick family in America. At that time it became known that Cornelis Aertsen Van Schaick came to New York in 1636 under a contract with the Dutch States-General which was in control of the New York area until 1673.

After the death of Charles Warren Van Scoyoc in 1964 the search for the Van Scoyoc ancestry languished. However, interest was rekindled in the late 1970s when the Compiler became a member of The Holland Society of New York. This action was followed in 1982 by he and his wife, Marjorie, joining a tour of Holland sponsored by The Holland Society of New York. During this trip we visited the Centraal Bureau voor Genealogie at The Hague where the possibility of obtaining data about the ancestry of Cornelis Aertsen was explored. Other than receiving from the Bureau at The Hague authentication of the Van Schaick Coat of Arms, we were not too encouraged by what we learned. We received information about several Dutch researchers who could be employed. A researcher was hired, but he was unable to develop the ancestry of Cornelis Aertsen.

In the spring of 1984 we were visited by our friends, John H. and Sally van Schaick of Schenectady, New York. We expressed our common interest in the ancestry of Cornelis Aertsen and explored the possibilities of obtaining additional Dutch ancestry data. Our joint interest in Cornelis had been heightened by the discovery that contrary to statements in the Van Schaick genealogy prepared by Dirck de Young, Cornelis Aertsen had in fact married Belitje Hendrickse in Sloterdyck just outside of Amsterdam on 1 July 1640. An article in The Genealogical Helper magazine of New Jersey in January 1959 said that Cornelis had resided in Houten and was born at Woerden, Holland. This information opened up additional avenues of research. John and Sally spent three weeks in Holland in 1987 and visited all the places where Cornelis Aertsen had lived. A great deal of research in the Dutch archives was accomplished, but the desired proof of his ancestors continued to be lacking.

John and Sally accumulated a good deal of information about the van Schaick families of Houten and Woerden and copies of such data and also John's "write-ups" of the genealogical material were most helpful. After John H. and the Compiler reviewed this material it was mutually decided that it would be necessary to employ a researcher to examine such records as existed for the purpose of proving the ancestry of Cornelis Aertsen. We did so with the understanding that the research data would be shared equally between us.

In this area of Dutch research we had an advantage inasmuch as John H. speaks, reads and writes Dutch. As a result of his contacts in Utrecht he was able to secure the services of Marcel (M.S.F.) Kemp of den Haag, Holland. Kemp is a Minister of the Reformed Church and was strongly recommended as being the leading authority in Holland on the old families of the region East of Utrecht between the Crooked Rhine and the Lek Rivers for the period before 1700. Kemp submitted a report of 66 pages which was translated by John H.

The report of the Reverend Marcel Kemp has been reviewed and analyzed by John H. van Schaick and the Compiler. The report of John H. van Schaick entitled THE SEARCH FOR THE ANCESTRY OF CORNELIS AERTSEN is appended hereto and made a part of this Volume.

John Hardwick van Schaick

John Hardwick van Schaick was born 8 November 1920 at Schenectady, New York, the son of Francis Edward van Schaick and Katherine Hardwick van Schaick. John married Sally Logan Brown 12 October 1942 at Ft. Myers, Florida. They are the parents of five children, two boys and three girls. John received BA and M ED degrees from Union College, New York. In World War II he was a Captain in the Army Air Force and served in the South Pacific. After 12 years with the General Electric Company he resigned and became an English teacher at Mt. Pleasant High School in Schenectady. In 1985 he authored a 30-page essay about Cornelis Aertsen Van Schaick of New Netherlands. It was published as part of Volume II, DESCENDANTS OF CORNELIS AERTSEN VAN SCHAOCK.

THE SEARCH FOR THE ANCESTRY OF CORNELIS AERTSEN

by

John H. van Schaick

INTRODUCTION

In preparing his first volume of the DESCENDANTS OF CORNELIS AERTSEN VAN SCHAICK for publication in 1982, the compiler presented the then prevalent theory of Cornelis Aertsen's origins writing: "Cornelis was born about 1610 in Westbroek, Province of Utrecht, the Netherlands (Holland)"; he also provided information on that village, a few miles north of Utrecht. Several years later there came to his notice information about the marriage and origins of Cornelis Aertsen which cast serious doubt on the Westbroek theory and led to a thorough search for Cornelis Aertsen's ancestry, in which search this writer took part.

The search continues since a positive result has yet to be achieved, although the results are encouraging and the probable end is believed to be in sight. This report first states what is definitely known about Cornelis Aertsen's origins. It then describes the various Van Schayck family groupings in the vicinity of Utrecht. Next it outlines the process of elimination which narrowed the search to a single candidate for father of Cornelis Aertsen. Finally it describes the milieau and family into which that candidate and our ancestor fit.

This search would not have progressed beyond the first question marks except for the kind and able assistance of Willem A. Wijburg of Utrecht who made possible much of the writer's initial screening of ancestral candidates. Cornelis van Schaik, also of Utrecht, gave great help in both the initial and later phases of the inquiry. Finally the Reverend Marcel Kemp of den Haag, the premier authority on the major farming families of the Krommerijn-Lek triangle region in the centuries before 1700, provided massive data on the New Netherland settlers who originated in that region and on the presumed Van Schayck family of Cornelis Aertsen, long-time tenants of Houten's Overdam farmstead.

KNOWN FACTS ABOUT CORNELIS AERTSEN

In preparing a brief biography of Cornelis Aertsen in 1984, nowhere did the writer find him named "Van Schayck" in any record made during his lifetime. Only after his death, which occurred in about 1669, did his children begin to use the name Van Schayck. One presumes that Van Schayck, a fairly common name in the area about Utrecht, was his own family's name.

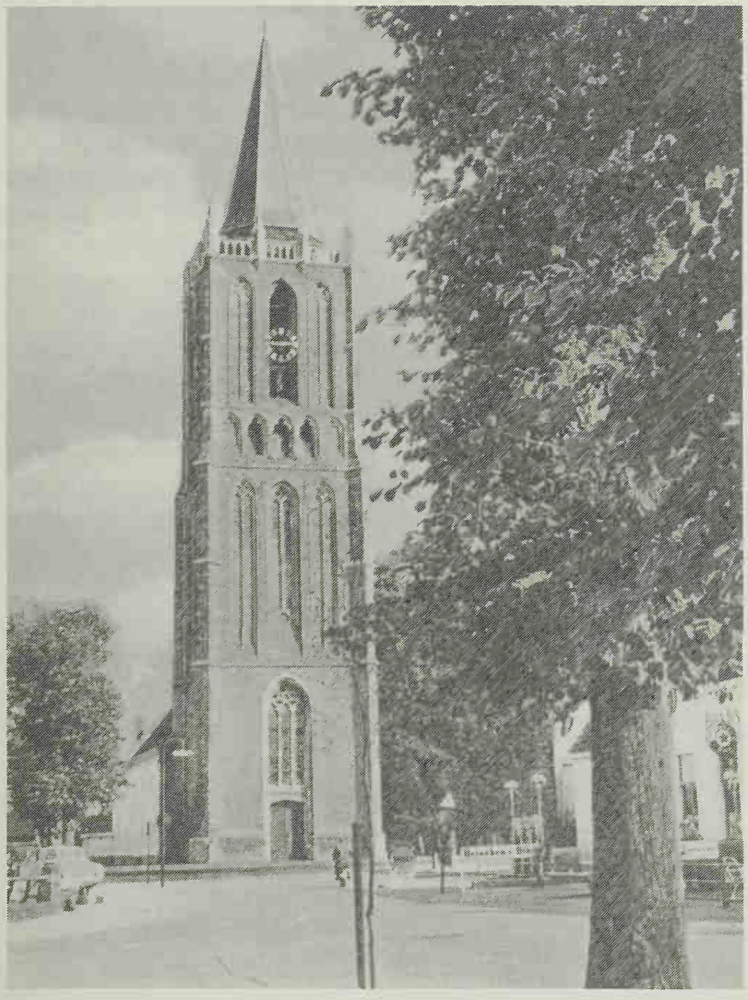
Cornelis' patronymic provides a second major clue to his parentage. It takes several forms each spelled variously: generally Arissen before 1850, usually Aertsen after 1650, and occasionally Arentsen. Since Arent is usually a short form of Arnout or Arnoldus, that usage was probably due to error by the recording scribe.

Arie and Aert are short forms of Adriaen, but Cornelis was never known as Adriaensen, although his first son, baptized Arie, began calling himself Adriaen in about 1665. When Arie was baptized on July 9, 1642, Cornelis, the father, was recorded as Aertsen. All in all, we must conclude that Cornelis' father was probably named Aert and was usually called Arie.

The possibilities remain that the father's name was Adriaen and that he was not a Van Schayck. Cornelis' chidren might have adopted the Van Schayck name from the mother's family. Nevertheless, in our search, while recognizing alternatives, we set out to find an Aert (or Adriaen) van Schayck who could have been or was the father.

Our earliest record of Cornelis Arissen dates from New Amsterdam on January 31, 1640, when at the age of 30 he was joined by three other men in testifying about the good conduct of Huyck Aertsen (van Rossum) in a local tavern. The next record dates from June 16, 1640, when Cornelis Arissen from Houten, about 30, and his fiancee Belitje Heynricxdr from Arnhem, 28, contracted with Kiliaen van Rensselaer for four years work in Rensselaerswyck. The next record is the marriage register of the Reformed church in Sloterdyck outside Amsterdam showing that on July 1, 1640, "Cornelis Aerendtsz van Woerden ende Belitje Hendricx van Arnhem" were married.



The Reformed Church at Houten as it appears today

These three records tell us much. Since terms of service were normally for four years, Cornelis had probably been in New Netherland since 1636, the traditional year of his arrival there. He apparently returned to Amsterdam to marry. He'd been born between mid-1609 and January 31, 1611, and had been baptized Reformed at Woerden, a town twelve miles west of Utrecht. His hometown was apprently Houten, five miles southeast of Utrecht. Later in buying and selling a house on Manhattan, Cornelis was "from Utrecht", the city from which Huyck van Rossum came. Also while Cornelis' signature was ordinarily a handmark ⸸ , in his contract with Rensselaer he signed "Cornelis Arijaensen", while Belitje signed with an "X".

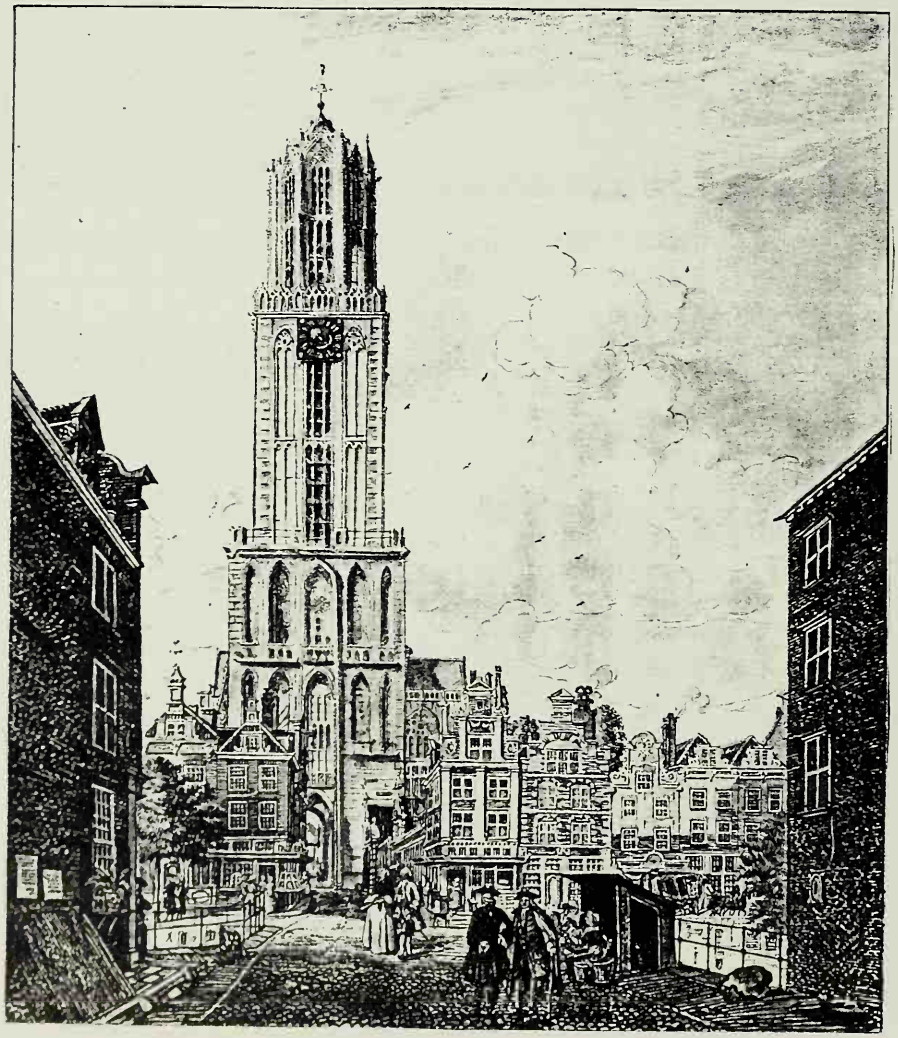
In New Netherland the couple settled across the Hudson from New Amsterdam in Pavonia. Their four children were baptized: Hendrickje in 1641, Arie in 1642; Hendrick in 1646; and Lysbeth in 1651. Baptismal witnesses included: Tryntje Simons (de Witt); Huyck Aertsen; the wife of Oloff Stephenszen from Wyck-bij-Duurstede; Evert Corneliszen van der Wel; and two step-daughters of the minister Everardus Bogardus from Woerden.

In 1649 with Egbert Wouterszen from Ysselsteyn, Cornelis Aertsen was named by Jan Jansen Damen to administer his estate. Cornelis' family had close ties with the families of Andries Hoppe (whose wife Geertje was Belitje's sister), Jan Aertsen van der Bilt (whose wife was Annetje Hendricks from Norway), and Peter cornelissen van Steenwyck (who married Hendrickje Aerts in 1670). While Cornelis left his heirs about 65 acres of Manhattan farming land upon his death in 1669, most of his farming had been on leased lands, on Peter Stuyvesant's farm in the 1650's and on the Jan Jansen Damen farm in the 1660's.

THE FAMILY NAME "VAN SCHAYCK"

Most Americans researching a line of Van Schaycks in Utrecht province have presumed the name derived from a single Adam-like ancestor who built an original country seat from which the name derived. Louis P. de Boer made that presumption in a 1916 paper "The Van Schayck Family in the Netherlands..." asserting that "Schayck" was a contraction of Schadewyck from the given name "Schade" plus the suffix "-wyck", a manor or farmstead; de Boer dated an original Schadewyck to before 1000 AD and placed it near Vianen, a city a few miles south of Utrecht on the river Lek. This was not far from the geographic center of the various localities which bear some variation of the name.

Marcel (M.S.F.) Kemp, on the other hand, in his "Verslag van het Onderzoek naar de Herkomst en Afkomst van Cornelis Aertsz..." (a 1991 manuscript in the possession of the writer and compiler) agrees with de Boer's derivation of Schadewyck and Schayck, but he gives Schadewyck a more recent origin. Kemp holds that the given name "Schade" appears first in the Utrecht archives in a document dated 1227 in which a Wilhelmus Scadhe is named as a minister to the Bishop of Utrecht. A century later the name was so common that Kemp can cite a number of persons in the early 1300's with the name Schade in just the vicinity of the old castle of Goye; hence Kemp believes that several men gave their name of "Schade" separately to several "Schadewycks" and that several families of Van Schaycks arose in separate localities. This may well be correct and it explains the numerous "Schadewycks", "Schadics", and "Schaiks" in Utrecht and three bordering provinces.



Utrecht's Dom Tower seen across the Old Canal

The earliest record Kemp cites of "Schadewyck" as a family name is a reference to a Ghiselbertus de Scadwijc who on March 17, 1236, took a long-term lease on church lands lying between the villages of Odijk and Werkhoven. In the 16th century this land was known as "de hofstede Scadewijck" and was in possession of a Van Schayck family. The earliest records of people of the name in the city of Utrecht which I found was a reference to Hermannis de Schadewyc and his son Henricus dated 1278 in Booth's genealogy of "Van Schayck".

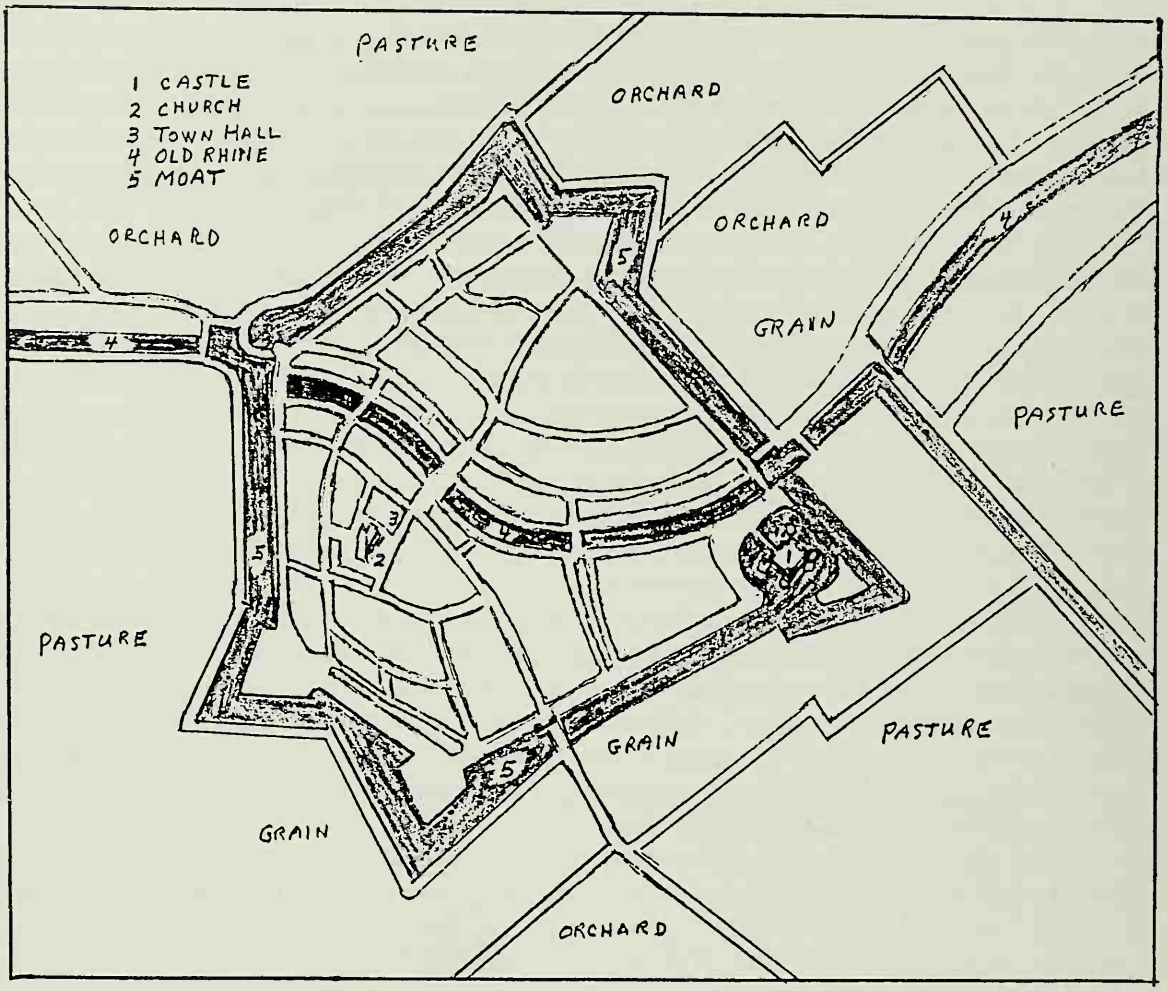
By 1600 several families of Van Schaycks in the region of Utrecht are discriminated by Kemp one from another by the first names which they customarily favored, by their coats of arms, and by social context. Two main groups lived south and east of Utrecht in the vicinity of Houten, one using the name Daem (Adam), the other the names Gysbert and Jan. A third group using abbey lands at Zeist and de Bilt northeast of Utrecht favored the given names Hubert, Gosen, and Gysbert, while yet another group living near Achtienhoven and Westbroek north of Utrecht favored the given names Gosen and Gerrit. It was from this group that Gosen Gerritsz van Schayck, the settler in Rensselaerswyck in 1637, descended and within which his ancestry has been traced by John R. Delafield to about the year 1520.

Altogether in the Krommerijn (Crooked Rhine) region east of Utrecht (which excludes any Van Schaycks living about Achtienhoven) there lived in 1600 more than twenty major farmers of the name Van Schayck, whom Kemp has shown to be in possession of more than 1100 morgen of land, almost five percent of all the land in a region of 23,000 morgen. Since there are no records of the occupants of some of the 23,000 morgen, farmers calling themselves Van Schayck clearly held over five percent of the available land.

Not all Van Schaycks, however, got their name regularly from the male line. The family of Splinter Alphertsz van Rossum began calling themselves "Van Schayck" after Splinter's death in about 1625: see "Van Schaik (Vreeswijk)" by Cornelis van Schaik in DE NEDERLANDSCHE LEEUW, June-July 1991. According to Kemp, the children of Gerrit, son of Henrick Willemsz of Bunnik simply adopted the name Van Schayck after 1650, and these were not rare occurances. The process also worked in reverse: in about 1500 Willem van Schayck van Oistrum Snoyens of Houten became the progenitor of a Van Oostrum family which thereafter discarded the Van Schayck name (see M.S.F. Kemp, "Van Oostrum te Houten", JAARBOEK C.B.G., 1987).

When a child was baptized with the full name of a maternal grandfather, he could obtain a family name from the mother's line. This, Kemp says, occurred in several old families in the area: Van Oostrums and Van Rossums, as well as Van Schaycks. He cites a Schayck Gysbertsz farming at Jutfaas in the middle 1500's, who was also called Gysbert Gysbertsz van Schayck and who apparently got his name from a Gysbert van Schayck. About the same time in the family of Geryt Jansz Overdam on the Overdam farmstead outside Houten, Geryt's eldest son Willem became known as Schayck Gerritsz Overdam and as Willem Gerritsz van Schayck. His descendants all used Van Schayck as their family name.

The work of Marcel Kemp in researching the old farming families of the Krommerijn region depends heavily on the records of hereditary leases of lands owned by the nobles and various churchly orders; the records and minutes of the feudal and provincial courts; and the record books of notaries. Baptismal and marriage records of the village churches are spotty or non-existant until about 1625 or later. Thus tracing the family of someone like Cornelis Aertsen, born about 1610, is difficult unless a will or some other document is uncovered which lists family members. The family lines of artisans and laborers who held no land to record the changes of generations become virtually impossible to connect up.



Woerden at about the time of Cornelis Aertsen's birth

THE WALLED TOWN OF WOERDEN

In 1987 the writer visited Woerden where Cornelis Aertsen said he'd been baptized. The baptismal records there date only from 1626. Located on the Old Rhine ten miles west of Utrecht just across the border in South Holland, Woerden has been a townsite for over 3,000 years. The Romans located a frontier detachment there.

In 1372 Woerden obtained rights of self-government. The townsfolk then built bastioned walls of brick surrounded by a moat to protect the five-sided town. The defenses were strengthened in 1410 by Duke Jan of Bavaria who built a castle on the southeast bastion; this castle guarded a bridge into the town from the east, located where the Rhine flowed into the town. A bridge to the south and one on the northwest side where the Rhine exited the town were guarded by fortified gates. Within the walls five bridges crossed the Rhine, connecting the two halves of the town.

The town walls were levelled two centuries ago, but the moat, following the outlines of the bastions, still surrounds the old town. This branch of the Rhine, then and now little more than a sluggish canal, no longer flows openly through the town and a business street (Rijn Straat) follows its former course.

(copyrighted by Nico Plomb, but not by the Visitor's Service)

Near the center of town stands the 14th Century Petruskerk. In 1572, fifty years after Woerden's Jan de Bakker was martyred, the town and the church became Lutheran. Then in 1593, it adopted the Reformed faith. In Petruskerk, Cornelis Aertsen would have been baptized.

Woerden was then a local center of trade. The population, estimated at 1,500 in 1514, grew to about 3,200 in 1629 when 528 houses were counted. Another 500 inhabitants lived outside the walls, mostly to the west, where roof tile and brick makers had their kilns; peat supplied fuel for the kilns and for a peat trade, but by 1610 the nearest peat was used up and the bogs drained.

Around the town lay poldered farm land; on the higher lands grain, vegetables, and orchards grew; on the low lying lands cattle, draft stock and other farm animals grazed. Today Woerden rivals Gouda as a cheese manufacturing and marketing center. Its annual market fair celebrated its 500th anniversary in 1910.

Close by Petruskerk to its rear stands the Stadhuis or Town Hall built in 1501 and expanded to the rear and upward in about 1610. Still used as the Town Hall until 1889, the building now is the municipal museum. The church with its tower, the Stadhuis, one residence, the castle, and the moat date from before 1610.

The orphanage is gone which in 1616 took in nine-year-old Evert Bogaert, born in Woerden in 1607, who was destined as Everardus Bogardus to become the pastor at new Amsterdam in 1633, to wed the celebrated Anneke Jans, to baptize the first three of Aertsen's children, and until 1647 to minister to his family.

Although born in Woerden, Cornelis Aertsen probably didn't live there long. In 1640 he said he lived in Houten and in 1645 in New Amsterdam he was identified as from Utrecht. Consequently, it is likely he was reared and had family connections in those localities.

UTRECHT AND HOUTEN

Like Woerden, Utrecht was a townsite long before Roman times, but by 1610 it had a dozen times the population of Woerden. Located where the Crooked Rhine (Krommerijn) from Wyck-by-Duurstede to the southeast split into the Old Rhine flowing west through Woerden and the river Vecht north to the sea, it was chosen by Bishop Willibrord, apostle to the heathen, as his seat and the center of civil government.

Utrecht was well located for commerce. As a river boat and market town, it flourished. In the 1600's it had long been walled and moated; twelve bastions guarded the brick walls and eight main gates gave entry. It was a city of churches; Domkerk (the cathedral), started in 1254 with its 367 foot tower completed in 1382 was flanked west by Jacobikerk, north by Janskerk, and east by Pieterskerk (1048). A church to the south, planned to complete a cross, was never built, perhaps because it wasn't needed. Mariakerk (1090), Catherijnekerk (now the RC cathedral), Geertekerk, Nicolaikerk, and Buurkerk served the south end of the city. The Dom Tower, then as now, dominated the skyline from every direction.

The Crooked Rhine flowed around the town in a moat and through the town by way of two canals. Wagon roads ran from gates west to Woerden; north to Maarsen, Martensdijk and Westbroek; east to de Bilt, Bunnik, Soest and Odijk; south to Ysselstein, Jutfaas and Vianen; and southeast to Houten and Schalckwyck. See the accompanying map.

In and around Utrecht, there was much to see; river and canal boats loading and unloading, sails furled; windmills pumping water and grinding grain; heavy carts drawn by yoked oxen or paired horses; mechants and tradesmen at work; bakers, brewers, boat builders, and brickmakers; candle, cabinet and coffin makers; costers and coornkopers; cloth weavers and fullers; blacksmiths, coppersmiths, tinsmiths, gold and silversmiths and a dozen other crafts; carpenters, bricklayers, groiners and joiners, roof tilers and thatchers, stone carvers and stone masons; painters and makers of religious art; and soldiers, many of them English, Scottish and German mercenaries.

The twelve-year truce with Spain had expired in 1621. The defense lines ran from northeast of Utrecht around it to the south and west. From 1621 to 1648, military action east and south generally favored Dutch arms and important territories were added to the nation, while overseas the East and West India Companies assembled a Dutch empire.

Area east and south of Utrecht could be flooded for defense and in 1638 an accidental break in the Lek dikes resulted in heavy flooding and provided work for many laborers. Several farming villages, built on higher ground, then were isolated by water. Less than two miles east of Houten stood the Overdam farmstead, the place of origin of one family of Van Schaycks, and a mile farther, just southwest of Odijk, stood the Schadewyck farmstead, dating back at least to 1236.

Houten in the 1600's was dominated by a brick church standing at one side of the central plaza from which six or seven roads led. The village of about 800 was unwalled and from its edge the cultivated fields stretched into the distance marked by scattered farmsteads. Houten was a market center and besides its minister it housed shopkeepers and tradesmen; millers, bakers, and tailors; cobblers and wooden shoemakers; bricklayers, carpenters, thatchers, cartwrights and blacksmiths. There must also have been tapsters providing places to gather, gossip, and plan. A village market was held each Saturday in the central plaza.

Today besides the church and central plaza, there are few remains of the 17th Century village. Outside the old dorp and surrounding it stands a modern suburb of over 60,000 who live in townhouses and commute daily by train, bus, and auto.

Cornelis Aertsen was in New Amsterdam on January 30, 1640. He probably left on de Engel Gabriel in March arriving in Holland in May. One reason for his trip was marriage, perhaps arranged by letter and probably long planned. Cornelis' visit in Houten with relatives could not have been more than a few weeks, but despite the brief stay, one may speculate that longtime Houten acquaintances heading for Rensselaerswyck talked Cornelis into contracting to go there with them.

Roelof and Crijn Cornelisz, whom Kemp names as sons of Cornelis Martensz and Adriana Ros Jansdr from Houten, had gone to Rensselaerswyck in 1637 and Crijn had returned after two years. Now he was going back and several residents of Houten were going with him; Nijs Jacobsz, a lad of 19; Jan Reyersz, the son of a poor laborer; and a family group consisting of Cornelis Crijnen, 50, Jan Crijnen, and Jan Cornelis (Crijnen), a father with his brother and son. At least a business relationship had existed between Crijn Adriaensz, the presumed father of Cornelis and Jan Crijnen, and Jan Willemsz van Schayck, the younger, who was probably Cornelis Aertsen's grandfather.

They sailed on the Waterhondt in July, but while Cornelis Aertsen and Belitje Hendricks had contracted to work in Rensselaerswyck, their names were never entered in the colony's account books. Their contract was probably bought out because they next appeared as residents of Pavonia west of New Amsterdam across the river, apparently living on the farmstead at Ahasimus occupied by descendants of Cornelis van Voorst from Utrecht.

AERT JANSZ VAN SCHAYCK, FATHER OF CORNELIS AERTSEN

In November of 1987 the writer spent three weeks in the Utrecht archives seeking Adriaen and Aert van Schaycks of the right age to have fathered Cornelis Aertsen of Woerden, Houten, and Utrecht. This search continued over the next two years aided by Willem A. Wijburg of Utrecht, who combed his research notes for references which might apply. From the Utrecht marriage registers and the files of the notaries over a dozen names of Adriaen and Aert van Schaycks turned up which were worthy of consideration.

Each name was checked and all but three were eliminated conclusively from consideration. Two of the three remaining showed no connection with Houten. The one left was Aert Jansz van Schayck whose parents Jan Willemsz van Schayck, churchwarden of Houten in 1617, and his wife, Anna Aert Heynricksdr, made their will on January 26, 1621 before notary Willem van Galen. At that time their oldest son Aert was "out of the country". Since the couple had married in about 1586, Aert, the eldest, would have been about 23 when Cornelis Aertsen was born, the right age.

Then in 1991 the Reverend Marcel Kemp offered to search his 150,000 data cards for evidence that Aert Jan Willemsz van Schayck was the father of our ancestor and we asked him to do so. In seeking the ancestry of Cornelis Aertsen of New Netherland, Kemp was investigating the only AERT van Schayck with close connections to Houten of the right age in 1610 to be the father. When Kemp sought data on this Aert van Schayck, however, he found data to be extremely scant.

The Jan Willemsz van Schayck will in 1621 named five sons and four daughters. The fourth son, Henrick, became a baker in Utrecht where he died childless in about 1681. In a will made in 1678 Henrick mentioned several living nephews and nieces, among whom was his brother's daughter Aertge AERTSDR. This is important because otherwise we might think that Aert had died childless in some foreign land. Now we know that Aert Jansz van Schayck had somewhere begotten a daughter.

From other records we find that Aertgen Aertsdr married for the FIRST time on May 2, 1663 to Henrick Gysbertsz van Bell, a widower; both were living outside the Wittevrouwenpoort of Utrecht, which is on the road to de Bilt. The wedding was performed before the civil authorities which means at least one of the couple was probably a Roman Catholic. Henrick Gysbertsz had been living in Abstede, just east of Utrecht, on May 2, 1642, when he'd married his first wife.

In 1685 Aertgen was buried "gratis" in the Buurkerk (in poverty). She was survived by her husband and an underaged daughter. If the child was born in 1665 when Aertgen was as old as 45, she might have been born as early as 1620. Aertgen, therefore, had to be AT THE VERY LEAST 10 years younger than Cornelis Aertsen; she was most likely much younger, and a half-sister, born perhaps in about 1630 or 1640.

Within weeks of making his will in 1621 Jan Willemsz van Schayck died. His widow remarried before March 6, 1624, to Thomas Jan Philipsz of Odijk. In 1629 his grandnephew Philip Jansz Wantanaer and and Aert Jansz van Schayck made inquiry in the Tollesteeg Court, in that area of Utrecht toward Houten and Jutfaas, about the age of horses they had bought from Adriaen Jansz van Oostrum of Bunnik (January 10, 1629 GAU Court Tollesteeg II 3492-3 f 55). Kemp warns that this may have been the Aert Jansz van Schayck of Jutfaas who married in Utrecht in 1629, but the relationship of this Aert Jansz' partner to Aerts' stepfather suggests that this is a trace left by Aert Jansz van Schayck of Houten.

Moreover, Aert Jansz van Schayck of Houten as a horse dealer in 1629 fits well with Huyck Aertsen van Rossum's partnership in 1633 with Jan Jansz van Cothen; the two were described then as coachmen with two wagons and horses contracted to the military service, which partnership lasted at least to the end of 1635. Furthermore, at about this time Huyck Aertsen's aunt Jannechgen Fredericksdr lived outside the Tollesteeg gate of Utrecht; as the widow of Govert Ockersz she made her will from there on January 13, 1631.

Huyck Aertsen's grandfather (Frederick Andriesz) and Aert Jansz van Schayck's grandmother (Henrickgen Andriesdr) were brother and sister, so Huyck Aertsen of New Netherland was a cousin of Aert Jansz van Schayck; recall that the earliest known record of Cornelis Aertsen dates from January 1640, in New Amsterdam when Cornelis "Arissen" took the lead in testifying about Huyck's good behavior in a tavern. (It is tempting to think Cornelis Arissen may have been one of the Company's soldiers just then ending a four-year enlistment; two of the three other men joining Cornelis Arissen in his testimony, Philip Geraerdy and Rogier Jorissen, were soldiers). In 1642 Huyck acted as a witness at the baptism of Cornelis Aertsen's first son Arie, a role for a relative much like a godparent.

Kemp identifies the characteristic handmark used by Cornelis Aertsen in signing documents as one used by at least ten people in the area around Houten in the early 1600's including the mark used by Huyck Aertsen's father Aert Frederick Andriesz. This mark was also used in 1630 by Anthonis Cornelisz of Loerik near Houten whom Kemp identifies as a possible cousin of Cornelis Aertsen, and by Gysbert Nysz, an uncle of Nys Jacobsz who probably traveled to New Netherland on the Waterhondt in 1640 with Cornelis Arissen.

Another known relative of Aert Jansz vna Schayck was an early settler in New Amsterdam. The instructions dated April 22, 1625, from the West India Company's directors to Director General Willem Verhulst mention a head farmer named Mattheus de Reus (Documents Relating to New Netherland, 1624-1626, D7: p. 94). Gerrit Mattheusz de Reus was operating one of the Company's farms on Manhattan in 1631, probably having succeeded his father. According to Kemp, he visited Utrecht in 1632 sailing in July on the Soutberch for service in Rensselaerswyck, where he died before mid-1639. Jan alias Frederick van Schayck, married to Geertruyt de Reus, was a brother of Aert Jansz's father and a great uncle of Gerrit de Reus. Whether Gerrit met with Cornelis Aertsen and Huyck Aertsen in 1632 or later in New Amsterdam is not known, but Gerrit de Reus in 1632 and Jan Jansz Damen of Bunnick in 1638 each interested others in venturing abroad.

Assuming that Jan Jansz Damen in New Amsterdam perhaps named Cornelis Aertsen as an administrator of his estate because of family relationship, Kemp looked into Damens' origins. Anna Aert Heynricksdr was Aert Jansz van Schayck's mother. In 1587 a Jan Damen in Utrecht had married Heyndrickge Aert Heynricksdr, perhaps a sister, but this couple had only a single son named Cornelis. Thus they were not the parents of Jan Jansz Damen whose father was Jan Cornelisz Damen of Bunnik, dead by 1627 when Jan Jansz Damen, only 20, acknowledged receiving a payment from the administrators of his estate.

Jan Jansz Damen and Cornelis Aertsen may have been related on Jan's mother's side as Kemp suggests, but the Jan Damen who married Heynrickge Aert Heyndricksdr and named his only son Cornelis may have been a second Jan Cornelisz Damen, brother of Jan Jansz Damens' like-named father. Jan Jansz Damen himself had two brothers named Cornelis, both named in Jan Jansz Damen's will, and Aert Jansz van Schayck's father Jan Willemsz had two brothers each also named Jan Willemsz, as we shall see. The practice in this region of namesaking like-named relatives with two or more children creates problems for genealogists. If the two Jan Damens were brothers, as seems possible, then Jan Jansz Damen was a cousin by marriage of Aert Jansz van Schayck of Houten.

The known relationship of Huyck Aertsen van Rossum and Gerrit de Reus and probable relationship of Jan Jansz Damen to Aert Jansz van Schayck, along with the associations of these with Cornelis Aertsen in New Netherland constitute a major link of circumstantial evidence tieing Cornelis Aertsen to Aert Jansz van Schayck. Weaker links have connected lines in many genealogies, but work continues to seek even firmer and more positive evidence.

THE ECONOMIC, SOCIAL AND RELIGIOUS MILIEU

The great farmers of the Crooked Rhine region held their leases of land from generation to generation, the family farmstead passing from eldest son to eldest son. Inevitably there was partition of lands among family members but appropriate marriages mitigated the partitions, enhanced family wealth, and increased land holdings. The wealthy purchased leases from the less fortunate who were forced into towns and cities. Warfare and religious strife strained economic and social ties and altered land tenures and social position.

The de Reus family lost heavily in the civil warfare before the turn of the century. The family of Aert Jansz van Schayck suffered financial reverses and lost their lease on the Overdam farmstead in about 1600 after 180 years of occupancy.

With few exceptions the great farmers of the region clung to the old religion. Family members becoming Protestant found themselves at disadvantage, sometimes cut off from family benefits and forced to seek fortunes elsewhere. Thus while most farming families of the region were Catholic, most settlers to New Netherland were Protestant, many from families suffering financial reverses. Many settlers used no family name calling themselves only by patronymics and home towns.

Cornelis Aertsen was Protestant. He married Reformed in Sloterdyck and with his wife was active in the church at New Amsterdam. On the other hand, the Reformed church was the only church. Witnesses at Aertsen baptisms included a church deacon's wife and two stepdaughters of the minister, Everardus Bogardus from Woerden. Belitje served as witness at numerous baptisms. As a lifelong Protestant, Cornelis had probably been baptized Reformed by his father at Woerden.

In contrast, all four of Aert Jansz van Schayck's brothers and two sisters remained Catholic, or married Catholics, as Kemp shows from the records of their marriages; only Geertruyt and Anichgen married Reformed. Anthonis Jansz, however, was buried Reformed in the Buurkerk in 1660, as were Hendrick Jansz in 1681, and Aertgen Aertsdr in 1685. The Buurkerk stands not far from the Tollesteeg gate on the road to Houten. There Willem and Gysbert Jansz van Schayck leased land in 1638 and near there Henrickgen Jansdr, wife of Ryck Stael, still lived in 1642 at Heemstede.

If religious differences in the mid-1600's in this family seem milder than in some families, the differences may have been sharp when Aert was coming of age. Kemp cites one clearcut case of a brother disinheriting his siblings for religious reasons and he suggests that religion may be why Aert left the family circle at Houten and why Cornelis Aertsen never used the family name Van Schayck.

Religion may have cost some farmers renewals of their leases on lands taken over by the Reformed church, but other factors were at work. For whatever reasons, by 1700 all the descendants of Aert Jansz van Schayck's father (most of whom had remained Catholic) had left farming for other pursuits, and some, including the Protestant Annichgen and Aert's daughter Aertgen, had died in poverty.

All in all, the case Marcel Kemp makes for Aert Jansz van Schayck of Houten as the father of Cornelis Aertsen of New Netherland, while not conclusive is convincing. With most other possibilities ruled out, Aert Jansz van Schayck fits the picture well. Direct evidence shows he married and had at least one child and that religious differences may have caused him to leave the family circle. Circumstantial evidence shows that Protestant relatives of Aert Jansz van Schayck associates closely with Cornelis Aertsen in Manhattan. Finally, the evidence that Aert Jansz had issue much younger than Cornelis Aertsen, suggests new ways of explaining Cornelis Aertsen's family connections with Jan Aertsen van der Bilt and Hendrickje Aerts Breyandt, a problem which American genealogists have pondered for many years.

Work continues to confirm the descent of Cornelis Aertsen from Aert Jansz van Schayck though the chance remains that some other Aert or Adriaen with a Van Schayck mother or grandfather was Cornelis' father. Nevertheless, the writer and the compiler consider this line of descent sufficiently likely that we proceed to describe the family of Aert Jansz van Schayck and the Overdam farmstead which that family occupied for 180 years.

THE ANCESTRY OF AERT JANSZ VAN SCHAYCK OF HOUTEN

The father of Aert Jansz van Schayck and the presumed grandfather of Cornelis Aertsen was one of four sons of Willem Gerritsz van Schayck: Eelgis Willemsz and three sons named Jan Willemsz, each presumably the namesake of a different Jan in the family. Jan den Ouder occupied the Overdam farmstead until after 1600 and Jan alias Frederick married Geertruyt de Reus.

Jan de Jonge, born about 1560, was the father of Aert and his eight siblings: Willem and Gijsbert who farmed; Henrick and Anthonis who became prosperous townsmen in Utrecht; Geertruyt who married Reformed and died before 1621 leaving one daughter who married a soldier; Annichgen who didn't marry until 1640 but then married Reformed to a tailor and died childless and in poverty; and Henrickgen and Marrichgen who married Catholic, Marrichgen to a grain dealer, later a soldier.

Willem, the father of Eelgis and the three Jans, was shown in the Oudschildgeld register for 1536 as the farmer on the Overdam farmstead outside of the village of Houten. This farm, about 47 morgen in extent, was the property of the Chapter of Oudmunster at Utrecht. In various records Willem Gerritsz van Schayck was called:

1554 February 1, Schayck Gerritsz Overdam, churchwarden at Houten (Archief kapittel van de Dom 3959)
1559 March 7, Scaeyck Gerritsz, alderman of Houten and het Goy (Archief Ridderlijke Duitsche Orde 1143)
1559 December 18, Willem Gerritsz van Overdam leased with his wife Heynrickgen the property of Overdam at Houten from the Chapter of Oudmunster (Archief kapittel van Oudmunster 1360)
1570 September 15, Willem Gerritsz van Schayck renewed the contract (ibid.)
1566 Willem Gerritsz alias Schayck van Overdam, one of the churchwardens at Houten (Rijks Archief Utrecht 2079)

Willem Gerritsz was the son and successor at Overdam of Geryt Jansz (van) Overdam and his wife Gysbertge who was probably the daughter of a Willem van Schayck and so is accountable for a new line of Van Schaycks. Similarly in 1536 a Schayck Gysbertsz was a farmer at Jutfaas and from him too stemmed a family of Van Schaycks. Since the property of Overdam was church property from the 14th century and since the records of the Chapter of Oudmunster were well kept and were preserved, the line of succession of the Overdam generations (later Van Schayck) can be traced back in time to:

I Herman Egbertsz, born ca 1330, died before August 10, 1392, when widow and children rented land in Houten.

II Egbert Hermansz, born ca 1360. In 1386 owner of the Haencoern property at Houten; sheriff of Vuilkoop in 1426 in which capacity he used his five-lily shield seal; with his son rented the farmstead Overdam plus farmland called Hyndesprong in 1428 again using the seal; in 1435 made a declaration with 30 others as to the division of property near Vreeswijk when he was young

III Herman Egbertsz, renter of Overdam property after 1428; still recorded in het Goy in 1463 and 1468; perhaps married a Reymborch.

IV Geryt Herman Egbertsz in 1463 leased 4 morgen of land in Vuilkoop from the Abbey of St. Paul of Utrecht which he conveyed in 1478; he was recorded in 1476 as the renter of Overdam; married Alverade Claesdr Hoevenaer; nine children survived him in 1506.

V Jan Geryt Hermansz Overdam, the Elder, in 1510/11 occupied about 65 morgen of land in het Goy and Houten and another 9½ near Schonouwen; married before March 6, 1494, to Hildegont Gerytsdr de Keyser. Four sons are known. He was dead before 1517 when his sons Geryt and Bernt Overdam were charged with houserent.

VI Geryt Jansz Overdam paid houserent in 1517 and 1525 in Houten; before 1522 he married Gysbertgen, probably daughter of a Willem van Schayck. He was dead before 1536 when his son Willem Gerritsz van Schayck was mentioned as an Overdam.

VII Willem Gerritsz van Schayck, described previously.

VIII Jan Willemsz van Schayck, de Jonge, as described.

IX Aert Jansz van Schayck, out of the country in January 1621; presumed father of Cornelis Aertsen and father of Aertgen Aertsdr.

X Cornelis Aertsz of Woerden, Houten, Utrecht, Pavonia, & Manhattan; father of Hendrickje, Arie, Hendrick, and Lysbet, baptized Reformed in New Amsterdam, who were later "Van Schayck".

THE OVERDAM FARMSTEAD AT HOUTEN

The Overdam "boerderij" or farmstead outside of Houten was occupied for seven generations by a tenant farming family which came to be known as Overdam and which gave that name to another farmstead near Bunnik. The last two generations of that family on the Overdam farmstead adopted the name Van Schayck.

An archeological dig made at Overdam in 1978 and 1979 affirmed that the farm was built in about 1350, probably by its owner Willem Overdam. The period was a troubled one and Overdam was built for defense by the occupant's family and farm laborers. A moat was dug and the dirt used to raise the farmstead. A bridge crossing the moat was guarded by a gatehouse. Buildings included a dwelling house, a bakehouse, a livestock barn, and two hayricks. A drawing made in about 1626 when the farm was occupied by a family of Van Zylls shows it much as it stood through seven generations of Overdam/Van Schayck tenancy.

Willem Overdam, "knape", sold his farm in 1357 to one Rumer Uten Goye, married to Fyje van Veen, two of whose children took their mother's family name. Rumer died about 1397 and in 1400 Gherijd van Veen Rumerszoon conveyed Overdam to Hendrik van Rijsenburg. In 1412 the property passed to the Carthusian Cloister who in 1418 conveyed it to the Chapter of Oudmunster in Utrecht which held the property to the end of the 18th Century.

The gatehouse was pulled down in 1901 and the livestock barn and hayricks were demolished before 1970. The last farming operations were removed to a new location in 1978 and after 600 years agricultural use of Overdam ceased. The dwelling house and bakehouse were then rebuilt for strictly residential use, preserving their outward appearances.

A description of Overdam and the findings of the archeologists (mostly pottery shards from two main periods) may be found in the June 1984 issue of TUSSEN RIJN EN LEK, "Graven Naar de Historie van Overdam (Digging into the History of Overdam)" by L. de Keyser and A. van Schip.

OTHER AMERICAN VAN SCHAYCK FAMILIES

The best known of the early settlers in New Netherland who founded Van Schayck families was Gosen Gerritsz from Westbroek who arrived in 1637. After six years in Rensselaer's colony, Gosen visited home and then returned to Fort Orange area where he began use of the family name Van Schayck. John R. Delafield researched his family in Westbroek in the 1930's and his ancestry appeared in 1939 in Delafield's "Armory of American Families of Dutch Descent". Gosen's family and that of Cornelis Aert Jansz Van Schayck are separate and distinct.

Another "Van Schayck" in Beverwyck in about 1660 was known as Claes Bever or claes Laurensz, later Van Schayck. On October 28, 1660 Marten Cornelissen from Ysselsteyn testified that he had known Claes Bever many years before in his youth having been raised with him in the same neighborhood at Houten, swearing to this and other matters before notary D. V. Schelluyne. This family settled in the Kinderhook area of New York.

From the foregoing it appears that the family name common to the descendants of Claes Bever, Cornelis Aertsen, and Gosen Gerritsz stems from distinct and separate lines, and it is clear that any blood relationship which may exist among the members of these three American Van Schayck families does not derive from their common family name but from other relationships.

CHAPTER III

VAN SCHAICK COAT OF ARMS

As a correlation to the search for the ancestors of Cornelis Aertsen a search was made for the Van Schaick family Coat of Arms. This search began in 1982 at the Centraal Bureau voor Genealogie at The Hague. Prior to our trip to Holland we had discovered in American records two different versions of a purported Van Schaick Coat of Arms, called Blasons in The Netherlands, one in black and white and the other in color. The Bureau genealogist exhibited their file copy of the van Schayck Coat of Arms for comparison. One of the Coat of Arms which we brought matched the design, but not the color. We were advised of the proper color.

Upon our return from Holland we commissioned an artist to draw and paint a Coat of Arms in accord with the specifications we received from the Bureau. A photograph was taken of the painting and a copy sent to the Bureau with a request that it be authenticated and returned to us if in fact it matched the file copy Coat of Arms. The Bureau responded that the Coat of Arms sent to them matched and was proclaimed to be authenticated. A copy of this Coat of Arms is set forth on page 25.

This Coat of Arms is comparable to the Coat of Arms used by Heynrick Jacobsz van Schaick, Alderman of the Heerlijkheid Hagensteyn dated 1 April 1554 for the authentication of a Charter issued by a three Judge Court in connection with the transfer to Peter Gerritsz of six Morgens of land (about 12 acres) situated in the Joffrouwen Haich owned by the widow of Heylgen Frederics van Meerlo.

The Charter of 1 April 1554 was in the possession of Baron Heerema Von Zuydwijk of Schloss Surenburg near Munster, Germany until about 1930. It was obtained at that time by the General Archives at The Hague together with other documents pertaining to the village of Hagensteyn in Utrecht Province. Lands in the village were owned by ancestors of the Baron. There is no family relationship between the Baron and the van Schaycks.

The principal purpose of the Coat of Arms was to distinguish families when they sealed documents such as Wills, Land Leases and Deeds. They were used instead of signatures. The 1 April 1554 Coat of Arms has attached to it by ribbons the seals of each of the three members of the Court. The center seal is that of Heynrick Jacobsz van Schaick. The other two seals are of Jan Diericksoen and Loef Alfersoen. The seals are made of black wax with the center of each being a replica of the Blazon of each family. The seal of Heynrick is approximately one inch in diameter and shows the three fleurs de lys. The three fleurs de lys in the Coat of Arms reflect suborgination to the feudal Lords, in this case the Sovereigns of Burgundy.

CHAPTER IV
CORNELIS AERTSEN VAN SCHAICK OF WOERDEN

Cornelis was born about 1610 in Woerden, Province of Utrecht, The Netherlands (Holland). Among the settlers chosen by the Dutch West India Company was Cornelis Aertsen Van Schaick, a man of 26, who arrived in New Netherland after a long and arduous voyage in 1636. He joined a group of brave, resolute and hard working people who were devoted to the establishment of a profitable colony in the new world in accord with the policy of exploration and colonization of the West India Company.

m. (2) Wyntje Elberts, 10 July 1662, New Amsterdam (widow of Aert Willemszen)

From all that is known about Cornelis it appears that he was energetic and active in building and defending the new settlement. In 1636 Cornelis received a grant of land from the West India Company.

A tragedy befell Cornelis when he was living at Pavonia (Paulus Hook). His buildings and property were destroyed in the February 1643 Indian uprising. A number of Dutch settlers lost their lives. After the loss of his house and farm buildings to the Indian torches, Cornelis moved to Manhattan.

In 1656 Cornelis leased Governor Stuyvesant's bouwrie, one of the largest as well as the most remote from the city. During the period of this lease it was necessary to post extra watches throughout every night to protect the bouwries in this area from possible Indian depredation. The Indians had never become really friendly with the Dutch settlers since the 1643 episode.

Cornelis also became the lessee of the Jan Damen farm which extended from the East River to the Hudson and was bounded generally on the south by what became known as Wall Street. He was one of the leading farmers of the Colony. Cornelis for many years occupied the "Great House" on the Damen farm located just outside the landgate on what is now the east side of Broadway diagonally across from what is now Cedar Street.

Cornelis was a friend and supporter of Governor Peter Stuyvesant and early in 1664 made a contribution at the request of the Governor for improving the defenses of the city. He did not sign any of the Remonstrances or Petitions requesting relief or redress. His fair-mindedness and excellent standing in the community is demonstrated by his repeated appointment to the Burgomasters Court of New Amsterdam. The evidence is ample that Cornelis was well thought of in the Colony and that he played a creditable part in its early history.

See Volume 2, pages 14-43 for information about the life of Cornelis Aertsen in New Netherland. The genealogy of the immediate family of Cornelis Aertsen follows.

Iden was the second child of Arie (Adrian) Cornelissen Van Schaick. His progeny are responsible for the great bulk of the descendants of Cornelis Aertsen Van Schaick. He was the father of five children; 3 boys and 2 girls by his first wife Isabel, and three sons and one daughter by his second wife Mary.

Arie Van Schaick, the father of Iden, purchased a farm at Bloomingdale, New York on the Hudson River lying west of what is now 10th Avenue between West 70th and West 71st Streets. The land contained about 100 acres which was farmed by Arie and his children.

In 1685, at the age of twenty, Iden married Isabel Bloetgoet, the daughter of Frans Bloetgoet, who was the Chief Officer of Flushing, Hempstead and other Long Island towns. Captain Arie died in December 1698. Shortly thereafter, Iden disposed of interest in the Bloomingdale farm and moved to Flushing. The family remained there until 1704, when he purchased a farm at Cold Springs Harbor, Long Island. He acquired additional land in the area in 1714.

Isabel died ca. 1716 at Oyster Bay, Long Island. About two years later Iden married a woman named Mary, age and background unknown. By this marriage Iden sired four children, three boys and one girl. In contrast to the Dutch names given his children by Isabel, the names of the 4 children were of English origin.

Iden died in 1728. Under the terms of his will Cornelius was to run the farm and would inherit it in the event of the marriage of Mary. On 15 February 1732, Mary married Samuel Smith of Oyster Bay. At that time the minor four children of Iden and Mary were of age twelve or less. Presumably they lived in the Smith household. However, it is possible that they lived in the households of their elder half brothers and sister.

Iden and his sons Cornelius and Francis were members of the Militia in 1715.

Iden was appointed Overseer of Highways in 1712 for Cold Springs. He also became Fence Viewer for Cold Springs, Oyster Bay.

Cornelius was the first son of Iden and his wife Isabel. The Will of Iden dated 29 May 1728 provided that Mary and son Cornelius were to live and carry on the farm. Cornelius continued with the farm after the marriage of Mary 15 February 1732. He sold the farm and with the proceeds purchased farm land in Westchester County, New York near North Salem.

Cornelius was a Sergeant in the Regiment of Colonel Frederick Wessenfels during the Revolutionary War.

Patience was the daughter of Isaac and Anna (Rogers) Barnes of East Hampton, New York.

Robert came to Missouri in 1830 with his parents and brothers and sisters. In 1848 he married Martha Ann Howser, who was a native of Kentucky. In 1854 he moved his family to Macon County and hence to Saline County. Robert was a miller by trade and built and ran several grist and sawmills in Saline County. He traded his property in Macon County for a farm in Saline County. After seven years of farming, he moved to Cowley County, where his son William P. lived. At the opening of the Oklahoma Territory, Robert and his sons filed claims.

During the Civil War Robert served in the Union Army under General Price.

John McMillan, the first husband of Nancy, was killed when he tried to stop runaway horses hitched to a wagon. At that time Nancy was pregnant with Martha Ann.

John "Jack" Hathaway, the second husband of Nancy Alice, was born in Ireland and came to the United States through Canada with his two brothers. Jack cut timbers for the railroad and farmed. The family moved to Shelby County and later to Marion County, Missouri. Jack and his two sons homesteaded in Harper County, Oklahoma. He gave a portion of his land for a cemetery and church which he helped build. It is called the Prairie New Baptist Church and is located 11 miles north of Woodward, Oklahoma.

Charles Edward Van Schoyck Jr. was born in Gibson City, Illinois. At the age of 22 he enlisted in the United States Army for one year of military service (19 July 1920 to 18 July 1921). During his military service, he met Josie Lee Popham. They were married in Bexar County, Texas the day he was discharged from the army. Their son, Sam, was born in Bexar County. A second son was born but did not survive. Charles left Josie and son Sam. A divorce was granted Josie, and Sam subsequently married Helen Ruth Oetgen, 18 July 1935.

Josie Lee later married Arthur Kencade in Austin, Texas. Son Sam lived with his mother and Arthur until the death of Josie by cancer 18 January 1932. At that time he went to live with his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Edward Popham of San Antonio, Texas. He was raised with the Popham name, through an adoption. Apparently, Sam was not happy in San Antonio and he left there at age fourteen without knowledge that his father was Charles Edward Van Schoyck. This fact was made known to him after he had married. His Aunt Emma May Popham advised him of his ancestry.

Josie Lee was the daughter and tenth child of James Edward Popham and Malinda Jane McCray Popham. James was born 26 August 1865 and died 13 June 1937. Malinda Jane was born 24 December 1869 and died 16 July 1947. They are buried in the Fairview Cemetery, Fairview, Texas.

James is a graduate of Rider College of Trenton, New Jersey, class of 1933. In April 1941 he was drafted by the United States Army. He attended Officers Candidate School and was commissioned a 2nd Lt. in the Anti Aircraft Artillery. He was transferred to the Infantry and promoted to 1st Lt. at Camp Shelby, where he joined the 69th Division in October 1944, and shipped overseas for service in Europe. When the war ended in 1945, he was transferred to the 29th Division and sailed for home on Christmas day 1945. He joined the Reserves and retired as Major, 16 August 1971.

Prior to entering military service, James was employed by Spring Lake Bank to which he returned after his active duty service in 1945. He retired 1 September 1976 as Vice President, Branch Manager and Director. He resides in Manasquan, New Jersey.

Betty Lois is the daughter of Nelson J. and Minnetta Amy (Storer) Schoen.

Kenneth LeRoy Smith served in the United States Army in the years 1940-1942. He was a member of the 83rd Coast Artillery in coastal defense in California and in the Panama Canal Zone. He transferred to the U.S. Army Air Force where he became a 2nd Lt. pilot instructor and was stationed at San Antonio, Texas 1942-1945.

Jo Ann Ayres Smith contributed a great deal of genealogical material to Volumes 1 and 2, and is assisting in the compilation of Volume 3. Her work in regard to descendants of Aaron Van Scoy, Sr., who came to Virginia (now West Virginia) about 1750, has been invaluable and has evoked much praise.

Jacob Hays was the son and fifth child of George and Mary Vanscoy Hays of Randolph County, Virginia, later named West Virginia, after the War Between the States. Jacob ran a grocery store in the county. Caroline was the daughter of Archibald Dan and Jane Wilson.

In 1870, Jacob, Caroline and their then five children left West Virginia and traveled by train to Kansas City, Missouri. They were accompanied by their friends, the Elias Coberly family. Mrs. Coberly (Emily Wilson) was a cousin of Caroline. They had three children, two boys and a daughter, Susie. In this move to Kansas they were joined by other families from Randolph County.

The Hays and Coberly families settled at Benton, Kansas, where they homesteaded adjoining tracts of land. Jacob became a water well driller.

In 1906 Jacob and Caroline decided to leave Kansas and move to Oklahoma. They chose the town of Ringwood in Alfalta County, located in the north part of the state, about 15 miles west of Enid. By that time, Caroline had born 11 children, but two had died shortly after birth. The couple celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary in Ringwood on 13 August 1917.

The information about Peter and his children as set forth in Volumes 1 and 2 has increased through additional research. However, complete genealogical knowledge has not been achieved. The major addition pertains to Peter's son Francis. His name appeared in the Belmont County, Ohio Peter Van Schoik estate settlement papers. Son Joseph played a prominent part in the estate settlement. He and John Palmer were appointed administrators. Apparently, son Francis was not pleased with the actions of the administrators and brought suit against the estate in 1814. Arbitrators were appointed by the court in Belmont County to settle the dispute. No report of the administrators has been located.

Melissa was the mother of eight children. She died at age 35, three years after the birth of her youngest child, daughter Ida. The family was living in Hancock County, Ohio at the time of death. Alwilda, the eldest child, was fourteen when her mother died. John moved his family to Franklin County. Alwilda went to live with a Judson family, who were related by marriage to her father.

John remarried, his second wife being Mary Ebaugh, a widow with two children. In 1870, John was living with his wife Mary, her two children and his daughters Ruth and Ida in Franklin County. His son John H. was listed with a Judson family. Sarah Jenette was not listed in the 1870 or 1880 census, and is presumed to have died young.

Also living with John and his family was his mother, Sarah Cree. She had been widowed for many years and had lived at times with four of her seven children.

John was a farmer in Hancock and Franklin Counties. He died at age 80 and was buried at the Wesley Chapel at Hilliard, in Franklin County, rather than in the cemetery in Hancock County where his wife Melissa was buried. Information pertaining to his second wife is lacking. He was not living with her at the time of his death, as his daughter Ida made the decision as to where he would be buried.

William Henry Van Schoik and Emma Bibler were married at Mt. Blanchard, Hancock County, Ohio in the Methodist parsonage. They lived at Houktown, Hancock County in a house which they owned. In 1900 the family moved to a farm located southeast of Mt. Blanchard, upon which were located log buildings. William, who was a carpenter as well as a farmer, built a new six room house soon after taking over the property. This was the family home for the next 15 years. From there they moved to the town of Mt. Blanchard in 1915. About five years later, William moved the family near New Stark in Hancock County, where he had acquired a new farm.

Emma Bibler was the daughter of John and Katherine C. Battenfelt. She was the eldest of six children, three males and three females. John was born in 1817 and died in 1898.

While the records show a Johann Frantz Bibler as an emigrant from Germany, he may have been the ancestor of John, b. 1817, but it has not been proven. The first John Bibler was the son of Abraham and Elizabeth Suter Bibler, who came from the Shenandoah Valley of Virginia to Fairfield County, Ohio about 1800. John had three sons and six daughters, the eldest son being James Harvey, b. 21 March 1841. He married Mary Morgan 26 September 1864. Their first child was Emma Jane Bibler, mother of Emma Jane, b. 24 August 1865 in Hancock County, Ohio. The family had moved to Hancock County from Fairfield County in 1835. Emma Jane had two sisters, Ida A. and Myrtle Ann, also three brothers Bonah, John Jefferson and David Albert. James Harvey had been married five times and had fathered six children.

CHAPTER IX

THE DESCENDANTS OF AARON VAN SCHAICK

IV-1-2-2-5 (Vol. 1, P. 397)

AARON VAN SCHAICK SCOYOC, SR. (Vol. 2, P. 534)

b. 25 December 1692, Oyster Bay, Long Island, New York

The fifth son of Iden was named Aaron (Adrian). He was born and raised on his father's farm at Oyster Bay, Long Island. He left the farm while in his early twenties and moved to Bethlehem Township in Hunterdon County, New Jersey. He married, but the date and place and maiden name of his wife have not been established. However, he and his wife were the parents of four children born in the period 1722-1728. Cornelius (b. 1722) was the first child, followed by daughters Rebecca, Isabel and Tabitha. The first wife of Aaron died about 1749 after the birth of their fourth child, and Aaron married for the second time. His wife was Rebecca, who bore him three sons, Aaron, Jr., Moses and Enoch. Aaron moved his family to York County, Pennsylvania where they joined a large number of Dutch settlers in the Conewago settlement near Gettysburg, Pennsylvania. Aaron died in 1772. Pursuant to the terms of his will, the farm would be divided among his three sons by his wife Rebecca when they became twenty one years of age, with a provision being made for the care and comfort of their mother, Rebecca. She died in 1773, and the three sons became wards of the Orphans Court of York County.

Nancy Ann was the third wife of James. He was first married to Mary Stewart in Baltimore, Maryland on the 1st or 2nd of March 1779. He and Mary had the following children:

1. William	b. 1780-1787
2. Nancy	b.	ca.	1779	d.	1862
3. Elizabeth

After the death of Mary Stewart (birth and death dates in Maryland unknown), James married Mrs. Agnes ( ) Baker, a widow, in Harford County, Maryland on 1 April 1784. They had four children as listed below:

4. James, Jr.	b.	1 Apr.	1788	d. 26 Sep.	1879
5. Sarah	b.	ca.	1792	d. 28 May	1834
6. David	b.	ca.	1795
7. Mathew	b.	ca.	1799	d. 30 Sep.	1827

James lived in Harford County, Maryland until after his second marriage. In view of conflicting information, it is not possible to be certain when the family left Maryland. In 1810 James purchased a farm of 100 acres at Fork Ridge, above Moundsville, West Virginia, where he lived until his death. His wife Agnes is believed to have died after the 1810 Marshall County, West Virginia census, and before 1813 when he married Nancy Ann in Ohio County, West Virginia.

James was the grandson of William Bonar I of Scotch-Irish descent, who came to America about 1738 as a young man. Tradition says that he married Miss Gorrall from near Roanoke, Virginia in the present Montgomery County of Virginia. They had five sons and a daughter, and lived on or near the Roanoke River in the vicinity of Fort Vanse. Settlers in the area were harassed and attacked by the Indians prompting many settlers to leave the area. Among those leaving was the family of William, who moved near Harve de Grace in Maryland. Their presence there in 1776 was signaled by the local census taken that year.

William Bonar II was born on the Roanoke River in Virginia, ca. 1751. He married Jane McCulloch (b. ca. 1764) in Brooke County, West Virginia. They were the parents of: 1. Catherine; 2. Sarah; 3. James; 4. Rebecca; 5. Elizabeth; 6. Jane; 7. David; 8. George; 9. Greenbury-Dorsey and 10. Tabitha.

On October 7, 1777, William Bonar, Oliver Gorrell and George McCulloch, along with most of the male citizens of the Ohio County of Virginia, signed the Oath of Allegiance to the Commonwealth of Virginia and did swear to renounce and refuse all allegiance to George III, King of England. William is listed as a Revolutionary Patriot from Ohio County by the D.A.R.

William received a land grant signed by Patrick Henry, Governor of Virginia for 239 acres, dated 5 July 1786. He died 23 July 1830 in Brooke County, West Virginia. He and Jane were buried in the Old Christian Church Cemetery, West Liberty, Ohio County, West Virginia. By his Will, he left the plantation upon which he lived in equal shares to his sons George and Greenbury-Dorsey Bonar. James shared with the other children the personal property by Jane at the time of her marriage and/or later acquired and possessed at her death.

The Will of James Bonar, signed 31 January 1827, left all his property to his beloved wife Nancy "as long as she remains my widow for the maintenance of these, my eight youngest children, and then to be equally divided among each." He also left $1.00 to each of the children.

Nancy Ann Van Scyoc-Bonar was the daughter and 4th child of Abel Van Scyoc, Sr. and wife Mary ( ). She was the eldest daughter, with ten brothers and sisters. She married James 30 December 1813 at the age of 28. He then had seven children, their ages ranging from 14 to 23. Nancy Ann bore James eight children, making a total of 15 children.

For her wedding gift, the father of Mary Venus, Samuel Venus, gave her a farm of 500 acres on Bowman Ridge, much being covered with virgin timber. Later, they purchased another 100 acres to add to the 500 acre parcel. Before crops could be planted and a house built, it was necessary to clear a portion of the land. As the children grew to adulthood and married, a portion of the 600 acres was given to them. Abel was a delegate to the first Wheeling Convention held 13 May 1861. The delegates resolved to declare their adhesion to the United States government and denounced the Confederate action at Richmond. West Virginia became a separate state on 20 June 1863.

Jacob Riffle, Sr. was one of the first settlers in Randolph County, Virginia, having located in 1772 on a stream in the Huttonville District. The tradition is that he deserted from the Virginia Militia during the French and Indian War, and hid out in Tyarts Valley. His brother Frank was in an Indian raid. Jacob served as one of the first constables of Randolph County in 1787. He also served with Virginia troops in the Revolutionary War.

Jacob and wife Dorothy deeded several parcels of land in Randolph County, Virginia to sons Jacob, Jr., George and Francis.

Thomas became a minister of the Baptist faith and held services at the Logan Valley Baptist Church at Bellwood, and in other churches. He was also engaged in farming.

In 1850, Thomas married Nancy J. Bowman of Cambria County, Two years later, his younger brother John married Susan Catherine Bowman, the younger sister of Nancy. Both families lived in the Mountaindale community in Cambria County, Pennsylvania. Thomas and Nancy had no children, while John and Susan had nine, which they shared with Uncle Thomas and Aunt Nancy.

The two families were respected members of the community with hosts of friends in the church and in the community. John Van Scoyoc was a veteran of the Civil War. The families were staunch supporters of President Lincoln in his fight to preserve the Union. John Van Scoyoc was 87 years, 3 months and 18 days at the time of his death. He was survived by his widow Susan, nine children, thirty grandchildren, and six great grandchildren. These descendants of John are also relatives of Thomas.

Surname spelling

The surname spelling Van Scoik apparently originated with Moses, the 13th child of Stephen, son of Iden. Prior to the action of Moses, the surname was spelled Van Scoyoc. Moses had four sons and two daughters, one of whom died young. Such spelling appears to have been adopted by all the descendants of Moses.

CHAPTER XIII

DESCENDANTS OF CORNELIS AERTSEN VAN SCHAICK ASSOCIATION, INC.

The "Descendants of Cornelis Aertsen Van Schaick Association, Inc." was founded in December of 1983 by several descendants who had contributed genealogical material which was published in Volume I of this book series. It was the collective opinion of the descendants that a family association be formed and that a newsletter be published. The principal objective of these descendants was (1) to bring closer together the various branches of the Van Schaick family (2) to collect and record accurate and historical and genealogical data pertaining to family members and (3) to make such data and information available to members of the families through publication of the newsletter and other publications.

Following extensive communications between members and inquiries about other family associations, it was the concensus of these descendants to go ahead with the formation of the association which would be named "Descendants of Cornelis Aertsen Van Schaick Association, Inc." It was decided to obtain a Charter from the State of Florida for a non-profit corporation with officers and a Board of nine Trustees to be elected by the members. The Association would publish a newsletter four times a year entitled KINFOLKS QUARTERLY. The group selected Sandra Kinter, a professional genealogist, to be the Editor of the newsletter from her office at her home in Michigan. Melwood W. Van Scoyoc of Sarasota, Florida was selected as President.

Incorporation of "Descendants of Cornelis Aertsen Van Schaick Association, Inc." became official on 11 January 1984. In February of that year the first KINFOLKS QUARTERLY was published. Additional issues have been published each quarter of each succeeding year. Paid memberships in the Association total 125 persons and libraries. Each year the membership has gradually increased. The annual membership dues are $9.00 per year.

In addition to the publication of the KINFOLKS QUARTERLY the Association has available for sale copies of the beautiful authenticated Van Schaick Coat-of-Arms (illustrated in Volumes I, II and III of DESCENDANTS OF CORNELIS AERTSEN VAN SCHAICK) for $12.50, postpaid.

Information included in each issue of the KINFOLKS QUARTERLY is collected by the Editor from various sources and is also furnished by the members of the Association. Queries about missing descendants are published.

The offices of the Association are as follows:

ADDENDUM

At the time I had set for the completion of my draft of the script for Volume III my genealogical research for the descendants of Cornelis Aertsen Van Schaick had been completed except for two families of purported proven descendants. Their relationship to Cornelis Aertsen Van Schaick had not been fully verified. Accordingly, their data was set aside as a subject for additional research which would hopefully demonstrate that a positive relationship existed.

These data were again examined and efforts were made to establish satisfactory relationships. The first subject involved Cornelius Fernando Van Scoy, the data being furnished by Jean E. Buckhout (Mrs. Robert John White) of Silver Spring, Maryland. The father of Cornelius is Delos/Adelbert Van Scoy. It has not been possible to locate adequate data pertaining to the parents of Delos/Adelbert in the census or other documents of record. Thus, it was not possible for me to place this data in Volume III in its appropriate location.

The second subject involves the family of Charles Raymond Stackpole, son of Bessie Virginia Mae Van Scyoc and Fay Elmer Stackpole. These data were provided by Charles Raymond Stackpole of Brookfield, Wisconsin. Mr. Stackpole's data includes an interesting reference to a purported marriage of Aaron Van Scyoc to a daughter of Chief Cornstalk, Chief of the Shawnee Indian Tribe. Aaron was reported to have traded extensively with the Indians along the Ohio River.

It is known that Aaron, who was born 20 August 1792, married Margaret Blake 11 May 1843 in Marshall County, Virginia (Vol. II, P. 678). West Virginia was a part of Virginia until 1863. They had eleven children of whom three were males. However, one of the sons died young. A child of this union of Aaron and Margaret Blake was Margaret Jane Van Scyoc, b. June 1840, Marshall County, Virginia. Margaret Jane in 1885 apparently had an amour with a man named Wellman which resulted in the birth of a son born 7 April 1886 in Hastings, West Virginia. The boy was named James Wiley (Wellman). It is said that this boy was raised by Aaron Van Scyoc like a son and eventually was given the surname Van Scyoc. Margaret later married a Thomas West and then a man named Ruble. She carried the latter name to her death in 1945 (just short of 105 years old) and was buried in a cemetery at Woodsfield, Ohio.

James Wiley (Wellman) Van Scyoc married Mary Jane Berry. The marriage took place in Wetzel County, West Virginia. Their family of seven children is listed below.

It is with mixed feelings that I bring this book to a conclusion. I am most thankful that I have been able to accomplish a task that commenced nearly twenty years ago when beginning Volume I of this series.

After Volume III script was completed three deaths occurred to descendants of Cornelis Aertsen Van Schaick which I particularly wanted to mention, so I have placed them in this ADDENDUM. They were noted with a great deal of sadness.

INDEXES

The inclusion of five indexes in this Volume will facilitate the location in the book of a particular individual and/or family group of ancestors or descendants. These indexes are:

1. Male Descendants of Cornelis Aertsen Van Schaick bearing the following Anglicized Dutch surnames: Van Schaick, Van Schoiack, Van Schoick, Van Schoyck, Vanscoy, Van Scoy, Van Scoik, Van Scoyk, Van Scoyoc, Van Scyoc, Vanskike, Van Skike, Van Skyock and Van Syoc.
2. Female Descendants of Cornelis Aertsen Van Schaick bearing the above Anglicized Dutch surnames.
3. Wives of Male Descendants of Cornelis Aertsen Van Schaick bearing Anglicized Dutch surnames, listed by maiden names.
4. Other Male Descendants and husbands of Female Descendants of Cornelis Aertsen Van Schaick not bearing one of the above surnames.
5. Other Female Descendants and wives of Male Descendants of Cornelis Aertsen Van Schaick not bearing one of the above surnames.

Some instances exist in this Volume where the surnames of wives, husbands and children are missing. Similarly, some given names are missing. The principal cause of the missing surnames of wives is the non-inclusion in U.S. Census data of the maiden name of the wife and the absence in most states of public marriage records prior to the 1900s.

Many of the family lines in this Volume commence with a reference to a numbered page in Volume I or Volume II. Thus, to obtain the complete ancestry of this referenced individual, it is necessary to refer to Volume I or Volume II. Also, in many instances the information in Volume III concerning the referenced individual is only supplemental to the information in Volume I or Volume II. To secure all of the available information about an individual, reference should be made to the indexes in all three Volumes.
